Final Finish Selections should NOT be selected using printed materials.

Always use the actual finish samples for the best "representation" of a finish when making final color selections!

Maximum of 2 finishes per item.

*HD Finish Info:

Most commonly referred to as "hand distressed" or "heavily distressed" SELECT HD is precisely both!

SELECT HD finished products are done by hand one piece at a time & include distressing that represent the natural hardships of time like random chain marks, wormholes, as well as edges being worn, darkened and rasped & hand brushed stain & glazing. For this reason, no two pieces are alike & we cannot assure an exact match from the finish samples provided to our dealers to the finished product delivered to the consumer. Each piece produced in our HD finish will have its own uniqueness and character.

Specialty / PR Finish Info:

Our speciality finishes have additional techniques applied to create the final finish appearance. These speciality finishes are done by hand & each finished product will have its own uniqueness & character. For this reason, we cannot assure an exact match from the finish samples provided to our dealers to the finished product delivered to the consumer.

Exact matches are not achievable or guaranteed on any custom finish products.
